

Accessorizing Quick Tips

- Cluster objects to create a related table-top scene.
- Vary the height of the objects you are working with. You can add height by placing some objects on top attractive books laying on the surface.
- Work with odd numbers of objects: 3, 5, or 7. This makes the eye travel over triangular paths, creating visual interest.
- Symmetrical arrangements are more formal in nature; asymmetrical arrangements are more casual.
- Pay attention to scale. Make sure your objects are not too small or too big for the area in which they are being displayed.
